Edith, who is 8 years old, was invited to a children's party. Her blond hair is perfectly straight, but was becomingly arranged, and she started off evidently well pleased with her personal appearance.

On her return her mother asked, "Did you have a nice time, Edith!"

There was a moment's hesitation, and then the little girl responded, "Yes, I had a good time, but I should have had a bet-ter one if it hadn't been for my hair." "Why, Edith, what was wrong wit

Paper Pencils.

One of the difficulties which have stood in the way of the substitution of paper pulp for wood in the manufacture of pen cils, says Industries, has been the tough ness of the paper covering and its cons quent resistance to the action of a knife, but by a new process which has lately been introduced the molecular cohesion of the paper is modified in such a manner that it can be cut as easily as cedar wood. In realizing this the paper is in the first place made into tubes, and a quantity of these are placed in a frame at the lower end of a cylinder, the substance which is to be used as marking material being placed in the cylinder while in a plastic condition and sufficient pressure applied to force it into the hollow centers of the paper tubes, the mechanical appliances for the operation being such as to insure the most perfect result. After the completion of this process the pencils are dried in a gradual manner at increasing temperatures for six days and then plunged into a vessel of molter paraffin wax, which renders the paper pul of the required texture.—New York Sun

. ADJOURNMENT TALK. Guesses as to When the Grind Will End in Washington.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.-No sooner does a congress convene in its first session, secure its complete organization and ge fairly down to work, than those connect ed with it kegin to wonder when it will adjourn. The second or final session of a congress always adjourns by a day fixed by the constitution, at noon on March 4, in uneven years. Much of this wonder and anxiety as to when congress will adjourn is entertained by employee and others who have business or pleasure out of Washington. Others are senators and representatives who are eager to give attention to their private affairs.

There is a great deal of a different kind of anxiety prevailing here now as to when this session will adjourn. Everybody knows that the session will adjourn within a few days after the Wilson train by the session will adjourn within a few days after the Wilson train by the session will adjourn within a few days after the Wilson train by the session will be seen to be seen son tariff bill is out of the way. Every-body is anxious to have that measure either passed into a law or defeated.

There has been hung up in the document rooms of the senate a large calendar and every man who is supposed to have good judgment upon the question of adjournment is asked by some of the of adjournment is asked by some of the employes in that room to write down on the calendar his guess as to when this session will adjourn. Not only have nearly all the old employes about congress guessed, but many of the best informed senators and representatives have registered their guesses. The dates run all the way from July 1 to Nov. 1. The prevailing opinion centers around the latter part of August. The appropriation bills, which must take effect July 1, will undoubtedly be out of the way by that time, so that congress can adjourn within a few hours after the tariff bill is passed or defeated. Three-fourths of congress really believe that the adjournment will not be had until after the dog days.

Careful and Complete Investigation by a "Journal" Reporter.

A Searching Inquiry as to Startling Statements Recently Published.

[From the Albany, N. Y. Evening Journal.] A few days since, the Times-Union of this city published a remarkable letter, under the head-lines of "An Athens Miracle." The statements made were so unusual, and the interest occasioned so great, that an investigation by a "Jourgreat, that an investigation by a "Jour-nal" reporter seemed a necessity. The letter was that Mr. Lewis Clow, of Athens, N. Y., had been stricken with kidney disease. The best medical at-tendance was obtained, and failed to benefit him. While in this almost hopeless condition, he began the use of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy and it cured him; and furthermore, that there were other residents who had a similar experience.

To verify these statements and get what other information would be of interest to our readers, the Journal representative left Albany and soon found himself in the pretty village of Athens. It did not take long to satisfy the reporter that the statements of Mr. Clow were in every way true. The Rev. D. William Lawrence, pastor of the Lutheran church, Postmaster True and Justice of the Peace Goeller, when asked about it, said that every word was true to their knowledge. Mr. Clow was at death's door suffering with kidney trouble. The physicians failed to help him, and he was cured by the use of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. Also that Favorite Rdmedy had performed as marvelous a cure for Mrs. Casper Brooks, wife of the proprietor of the Robins House, of that porter stated his mission, and Mrs. Brooks, replied that she would be perfectly willing to tell all about her won-derful recovery. "Yes," said she, "I had a hard fight for health, but Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy restored mine. My flist trouble was ulcers of the womb, and they caused me the most intense pain and suffering. I consulted our regular physician, but he did not benefit me; in fact, I kept growing worse. My kidneys were getting very much dis-essed, and this combination of troubles was almost unbearable. At my husband's suggestion, I consulted physicians at Albany, Hudson and Chatham, and took their medicines and prescriptions faithfully, but found no benefit. You can imagine my terrible condition at this time, after employing five of the best physicians, all to one purpose; but at this dark hour a ray of light broke in upon me. Dr. Wm. Smith, of Jewett Heights, was recommended, and it isto him I owe my good health, for it was Dr. Smith who prescribed Dr. Ken-nedy's Favorite Remedy for me. I purchased a bottle and commenced taking it, and began to feel better and kept improving daily, the ulcers healed up, and my kidney trouble left me en-tirely. My case was greatly complica-ted, and did not stop here; I suffered misery from those terrible headaches so common among women, but I kept on taking Favorite Remedy; and am now entirely free from these diseases.

I am told that I have a tumor that cannot be cured unless I go to a hospital, but I think Favorite Remedy will, in time cure that. I have been o well for the past few months, said Mrs.Brooks, with a smile on her face, that I do nearly all the work about the hotel, and am getting along with about one half the help we used to employ. I certainly don't want to pose as mira-cle, but what else could you call my recovery?" Such a straightforward statement convinced the Journal reporter that Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy was certainly a Godsend to the sick and suffering.

Hundreds of people in and about Athens are conversant with the facts of these cases. In speaking to Mr. Horton, the well known druggist of Horton, the well known that place, he said. "Oh, yes, we sell quantities of Favorite Remedy. Why, loseph McGiffert, William there's Joseph McGiffert, William Mackey, Martin Hallenbeck, Casper Hallenbeck, Mrs. Robert Tiffany, and many others, say that Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is worth its weight in gold."

The investigations of the Journal reporter admit of but one conclusion; that as this great medicine is within the reach of all, it should be used by those who are suffering from rheumatism, dyspepsia, biliousness, kidney, liver and urinary troubles. It will correct the worst cases of habitual con-stipation, and is a certain cure for the diseases and weaknesses of women, particularly those that originate in change of life. It cures scrofula, erysipelas, salt rheum, eczema, ulcers, sores and tumors, gravle, diabetes or Bright's disease. Favorite Remedy is acknowl-edged by the medical profession as nature's antidote for uric acid.

AT THE TABERNACLE.

REV. DR. TALMAGE PREACHES UPON THE WORTH OF RELIGION.

An Interesting and Eloquent Sermon From the Words of Solomon-"Wisdom Is Better Than Rubles"-The True Christian Spirit-Dr. Talmage's Audience.

BROOKLYS, Feb. 11.-In the Tabernacle this foresoon Rev. Dr. Talmage preached to a crowded audience that filled the great building to overflowing, the subject of his sermon being "Rubies Surpassed," and the text Proverbs viii, II, "Wisdom is better

You have all seen the precious stone commonly called the ruby. It is of deep red color. The Bible makes much of it. It glowed in the first row of the high priest's breastplate. Under another name it stool in the wall of heaven. Jeremiah compares the ruddy check of the Nacarites to the ruby. Ezekiel points it out in the robes of the king of Tyre. Four times does Solo-mon use it as a symbol by which to extol wisdom or religion, always setting its value as better than rubies. The world does not agree as to how the precious stones were formed. The ancients thought that amber was made of drops of perspiration of the goddess Ge. The thunderstone was supposed to have dropped from a stormcloud. The emerald was said to have been made of the firefly. The lapis lazuli was thought to have been born of the cry of an Indian giant. And modern mineralogists say that the precious stones were made of gases and liquids. To mether thy seems like a spark from the anvil of the setting sun.

The home of the genuine ruby is Burmah, and 60 miles from its capital, where lives and reigns the ruler, called "Lord of the Rubies," under a careful govern-mental guard are these valuable mines of rnby kept. Rarely has any foreigner visit-ed them. When a ruby of large value was discovered, it was brought forth with elaborate ceremony, a procession was formed, and, with all bannered pomp, military guard and princely attendants, the gem was brought to the king's palace.

Of great value is the ruby, much more so liamond, as lapidaries and jewelers will tell you. An expert on this subject writes, "A ruby of perfect color weighing five karats is worth at the present day ten times as much as a diamond of equal weight." It was a disaster when Charles the Bold lost the ruby he was wearing at the battle of Grandson. It was a great af-fluence when Rudolph II of Austria inherited a ruby from his sister, the queen dow-ager. It was thought to have had much to do with the victory of Henry V, as he wore it into the battle of Agincourt.

It is the pride of the Russian court to own the largest ruby of all the world, presented by Gustavus III to the Russian em-press. Wondrous ruby! It has electric characteristics, and there are lightnings compressed in its double six sided prisms. What shall I call it? It is frozen fire! It is petrified blood! In all the world there is only one thing more valuable, and my text makes the comparison, "Wisdom is better than rubles."

EXCELLENCE OF RELIGION. But it is impossible to compare two things together unless there are some points of similarity as well as of difference. I am glad there is nothing lacking here. The ruby is more beautiful in the night and under the lamplight than by day. It is preferred for evening adorument. How the rubies glow and burn and flash as the lights lift the darkness! Catherine of Aragon had on her finger a ruby that fairly lanterned the night.

Sir John Mandeville, the celebrated trav eler of 400 years ago, said that the emperor of China had a ruby that made the night as bright as the day. The probability is that Solomon, under some of the lamps that illumined his cedar palace by night, noticed the peculiar glow of the ruby as it looked in the hilt of a sword or hung in some fold of the upholstery or beautified the lip of some chalice, while he was thinking at the same time of the excellency of our holy religion as chiefly seen in the night of trouble, and he cries out, "Wisdom is better than rubles."

Oh, yes, it is a good thing to have religion while the sun of prosperity rides high and everything is brilliant in fortune, in health, in worldly favor. Yet you can at such times hardly tell how much of it is natural exuberance and how much of it is the grace of God. But let the sun set and the shadows avalanche the plain and the thick darkness of sickness or poverty or persecution or mental exhaustion fill the soul and fill the house and fill the world; then you sit down by the lamp of God's word, and under its light the consolations of the gospel come out—the peace of God which passeth all understanding appears. You never fully appreciated their power until in the deep night of trouble the Di-vine Lamp revealed their exquisiteness. Pearls and amethysts for the day, but rubies for the night.

THE CHRISTIAN SPIRIT. All of the books of the Bible attempt in some way the assuagement of misfortune. Of the 150 psalms of David at least 90 allude to trouble. There are sighings in every wind and tears in every brook and pangs in every heart. It was originally proposed to call the president's residence at Washington, "The Palace" or "The Executive Mansion," but after it was de stroyed in the war of 1814 and rebuilt it was painted white to cover up the marks of the smoke and fire that had blackened the stone walls. Hence it was called "The White House." Most of the things now white with attractiveness were once black with disaster.

What the world most needs is the consolatory, and here it comes, our holy re-ligion, with both hands full of anodynes and sedatives and balsams, as in Daniel's time to stop mouths leonine; as in Shad rack's time to cool blast furnaces; as in Ezekiel's time to console captivity; as in St. John's time to unroll an apocalypse over rocky desolations. Hear its soothing voice as it declares: "Weeping may endure for a night, but joy cometh in the morning. "The mountains shall depart and the hill be removed, but my loving kindness shall not depart from you." "Whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth." "They shall hunger no more, neither thirst any more, neither shall the sun light on them, nor any heat, for the Lamb which is in the midst of the throne shall lead them to the living foun-tains of water, and God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes."

The most wholesome thing on earth is trouble if met in Christian spirit. To make Paul what he was took shipwreck, and whipping on the bare back, and peniten tiary, and pursuit of wild mobs, and the sword of decapitation. To make David what he was it took all that Ahitophel and Saul and Absalom and Goliath and all the Philistine hosts could do against him. It took Robert Chambers' malformation of feet to make him the literary conqueror.

It was bereavement that brought William Haworth of Wesley's time from wick cars, and I will meet you on Saturday night. I think it will do you both good. 'Well, well,' said the minister, while aside consulting his wife, 'what does this mean? But they make the suggestion, and I shall take it.

"That Tuesday evening found the young coupie warking the streets of the neigh-boring city, wondering what it all meant. "Saturday came, and on the arrival of the afternoon train Harry Bronson was A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle, and it never fails to cure when the directions are followed.

Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is to be found with every dealer in medicine, at one dollar a bottle, or six bottles for five dollars.

2t the afternoon train Harry Bronson was seady to meet the young parson and his way to steps of the out parsonage the roses and likes on either side awang in the evening air, and the river in front glowed under the lang row of willows. "It was just before sunset. It was an evening never to be forgotten. Its flowers will never close. Its clouds will never melt. Its waters will never lose their sheen. Its aroms will never float away. "The key was thrust into the door, and it flung open. 'What does this mean?' they both cried out at the same time. 'Who put down this carpet and set these chairs and hung this hall lamp?' It was no shabby carpet, but a e that showed that many dol-lars had been expended and much taste shown and much effort exerted. They opened the parlor door, and there they all stood, sofa and whatnot and chair and stand and mantel ornament and picture They went up stairs, and every room was furnished - heds with beautiful white nterpanes, and vases filled with flowers, and walls bung with engravings. Every thing complete. "These surprised people came down stairs to the pantry, found boxes of sugar, begs of sait, cans of preserves, packages of spice, bins of flour, loaves of brend. In the basement they found pails, baskets, dippers, cups, saucers, plates, forks, knives, spoons, strainers, bowls, pitchers, tubs and a huge stove filled with fuel and a lucifer match lying on the lid, so that all the young married couple had to do in going to housekeeping would be to strike the match and apply it to the shavings. In the study, with its lounge and cut flowers, was a table covered with bright green baize, and on it lay an envelope, inclosing a card on which was written: 'Please accept. From a few friends,'

"A year passed on, and the first cloud hovered over the parsonage. It was a dark cloud, yet it parted, and through it fell a bright a light as ever gilded a hearthston The next day all sorts of packages arrived little socks with a verse of poetry stuck in each one of them-socks about large enough for a small kitten-and a comb with which you might imagine Tom Thumb's wife would comb her hair. Mrs. Durbin had been there for 24 hours. Mr Bromlette sent up his coachman to make inquiries, and MacMillan called to expres his hope that it was a child of the cove nant. Lucas sent his congratulations from the doorstep—he had not courage enough to rattle the knocker. On his way back he ordered a package of farina. Harry Bronson smiled all the way to the parsonag and smiled all the way back. "The parson hardly dared to touch the delicate little thing for fear he would break it and walked around with it on a pillow, wondering what it would do next, starting at every sneeze or cry for fear b had done some irreparable damage.

"The ladies said it looked like its father and the gentlemen how much it resembled its mother. All sorts of names were proposed. Harry Bronsou thought it might be styled Humpsy Dumpsy, and Lucas blushingly said when asked what he pro-posed: 'Call it what you please. Please yourselves and you please me.' As a tem-porary name it was called Minister's Sun-

"My days at Bellevile are among my pleasantest memories, and the time spent there may be classed among my most suc-cessful ministrations. It was a school of experience and training. Leaving there, I went to Syracuse, where I spent three years in earnest work, refusing to accept any of the numerous calls that were sent me.

"At length I accepted the invitation of the Second Reformed church of Philadelphia and removed there in 1862, where remained for seven years and met with great success. During the last year of my pastorate there the church could not ac-commodate one-fourth of the multitudes who sought admission.
"In 1869 I unexpectedly received calls from the Calvary church of Chicago, the Central church in Brooklyn and a church in San Francisco. My people in Philadel-phia offered me every financial induce-ment to remain, but the peculiar condition of the Brooklyn Central church seemed to demand a sacrifice on my part, and I tore myself from the attached circle that had gathered around me in that beautiful city terian church on Schermerhorn street, be tween Nevins and Powers streets, Brook lyn, and was installed on March 22, 1869."

A Ring's Own Story.

Picking up from the sidewalk the other morning what appeared to be a gold ring, with empty claws showing the removal of a stone, the finder took it to a jeweler in Eleventh street for inspection. He ex-nifying glass and said:

"Yes, this is a gold ring of 14 carats The stone it contained was a three carat diamond. It was worn a number of years on a siender woman's third finger. Then it changed hands and was enlarged by the insertion of inferior gold alloy and may have been worn on the third finger of a stout woman or the little finger of a man The diamond was removed by a clums? hand, probably by a thief, who either ac cidentally dropped the ring or threw it away where you found it. I never saw the before, but plainly read its history by the same process of observation, analysis and deduction that an Indian uncon-sciously employs in detecting the testiof a forest trail."-Philadelphis

A Bat's Weak Point.

The bat's weakness as well as its strength lies in its wings. If the delicate finger bones, which stretch the membrane like umbrella ribs, or the membrane itself be damaged, the animal is disabled. deed a method of capturing bats practiced by the inhabitants of the South Sea islands shows that the wily savage has appreciated this. Armed with a thorny bush on the end of a long bamboo, he stealthily approaches a flying fox which has settled to feed on a fruit tree, when a dexterous blow will tear the bat's skinny wing and bring it to the ground, an acceptable ad-dition to the hunter's commissariat .-Chambers' Journal.
